

AVE CONFIRMS ITS PRESENCE AT THE MOST IMPORTANT ITALIAN AND INTERNATIONAL FAIRS

Six events will exhibit Ave products: a look to the future through innovation, design and technology.

Ave will participate again this year at the most important fairs in the Italian and international scene. This is a confirmation of Ave's continuous innovation and company orientation towards future and new technologies. Electric and electronic fields are constantly changing and Ave is part of this change so its devices will be featured in six important events that will showcase today's innovations and tomorrow's objects.

The wide program of events will open with the participation at MIPIM in Cannes, France. Thanks to the collaboration with the famous architect Simone Micheli, during this event Ave will exhibit its products at the most influential international property market dedicated to the real estate and everything concerns it. Over four intense days, March 15 to 18, Ave will present itself as a leader company in the electricity market and will have the opportunity to show off through its proposals for residential electrical system, but also for industrial's and hotel's.

"Smart technologies for a smart world" is the theme of the eighth edition of Elettrica 2016, the biennial exhibition of new technologies for lighting, climate control, automation, energy saving, home automation and security, which will have Ave between leading companies. From 7 to 10 April, the company will position its stand in Novara and exhibit the latest technology in the field of residential home automation and many solutions specifically designed to improve the life quality and create a real smart home.

Ave is synonymous with design. Each product of Ave brand is designed as a real piece of furniture, for this reason Ave could not miss the appointment with the fuorisalone exhibition organized by renowned architect Simone Micheli, an important event that from 12 to 17 April (concurrently with Salone del Mobile's Week) will liven up the Lombardy capital in the name of aesthetics, tracing the shapes of the future objects.

Simultaneous with Fuorisalone exhibition, the Fiera di Padova will host Elettromondo, the famous fair dedicated to heating, plumbing and electrical world where Ave will become an interpreter of this latter department. Boasting a centuries-old history in the electrical industry, from 14 to 16 April the Brescia-based company will convey the evolution of this world, presenting cutting-edge devices, especially designed to meet the needs of end users and installers.

It's also confirmed Ave's presence at the specialized fair organized by Selectra company of Bolzano that will be held from May 27 to 29, while the last Ave's appointment of 2016 will be the exhibition promoted by the Zani Ranzenigo company, an event that will be held in Brescia in October, nearby to the headquarters of Ave's company.

Rezzato, February 17, 2016

www.ave.it