

Video: AVE lights up your style with "retro" collections

Watch now the new AVE's "retro" designs in the video teaser made for the launch of these new collections.

No matter what style you are. With the innovative AVE "retro" collections you can customize uniquely your private space. This new series represent a precise choice from AVE, to meet its most demanding customers who love the details.

The "retro" collections retrieve the ON/OFF toggle system, making it topical again. Exclusive designs and noble materials combine with the best technology to give birth to an original unique concept, unveiled in this teaser video made for the launch of these collections.

AVE lights up your style. The "retro" collections consist of three different control lines, with aesthetically pleasing design front plates, made of refined materials. Three different proposals, each devoted to a different way of living and spaces' interpreting:

- New Style 44 collection in aluminium and glass is perfect for simplicity lovers. Chrome-colored toggle and ferrule fit on black and white glass front plates, or natural and anthracite brushed aluminium ones. Ideal for modern environments with vintage items.
- Dedicated to free spirits, for those who seek true harmony in the purity of white colour, New Style 44 collection relies on Corian's solidity to reflect the simple geometries of its toggle system. A modern evolution for genuine and minimalist open spaces.
- Available also in traditional version, England Style 44 is aimed at those who appreciate the quality and are looking for a noble detail to customize their classic interiors. The true brass toggles are embedded in natural walnut wood surfaces.

No matter what style you are. AVE lights up your style.
